Planning for better access

The Western Australian Disability Services Act requires all Local Governments to develop and implement a Disability Access and Inclusion Plan (DAIP) to ensure that people with disability have equal access to facilities and services.

Other legislation underpinning access and inclusion includes the Western Australia Equal Opportunity Act (1984) and the Commonwealth Disability Discrimination Act 1992 (DDA), both of which make discrimination on the basis of a person's disability unlawful.

History

The Shire of Bruce Rock is committed to facilitating the inclusion of people with disability through the improvement of access to its information and facilities and services. 3. Development of the disability access and inclusion plan

Community consultation process

The Shire of Bruce Rock reviewed its Disability Services Plan in 2017-2022. This process included:

- Examination of the initial DSP and subsequent review of reports to determine what has been achieved and outstanding works.
- Examination of other Shire documents and strategies.
- Investigation of contemporary trends and good practice in access and inclusion.
- Consultation with staff.

The Disability Services Regulations (2004) set out minimum consultation requirements for public authorities in relation to their DAIP. Local governments must call for submissions (either general or specific) by notice in newspapers circulating in the Local Government area and on any website maintained by, or on behalf of, the Local Government. Other mechanisms may also be used.

In preparation for the 2023-27 DAIP, the Shire consulted with its community by means of the Public Health and Wellbeing Survey 2022. Designed in conjunction with the Public Health consultant engaged by the Shire to assist, the Survey had questions specifically relating to which services the community were most accessing, and also what obstacles were in place that could limit or otherwise prevent access.

The Survey was promoted and circulated to community members between June and August 2022 and contained further questions relating to health and disability and how the impacts of this might limit access to Shire facilities and services. It asked what changes could be made to the above that would improve access to and take-up of Shire services. Results from this Survey and consultation with interested parties have informed the direction of the 2023-2027 DAIP.

Findings of the review and consultation

The review and consultation process found that most of the initial objectives outlined in the 2017-2022 DAIP had been achieved and that a new plan was required to address ongoing access barriers, ensuring currency and relevance. The new plan should also reflect the legislative and regulatory requirements, accommodating contemporary values and practices, whilst striving for inclusion and access beyond the minimum compliance of standards.

Shire of Bruce Rock

Disability Access and Inclusion Plan 2023-27

Many of the tasks allocated are classified as ongoing as a result of staff changes, legislative amendments, work practice improvements, new Councillors and other impacts on the local government operation. Websites and contact information are constantly reviewed and updated. Existing buildings are for all practical purposes compliant for access and inclusion and the review role is becoming one of “care and maintenance” as construction resources are finite.

Responsibility for implementing the DAIP

Implementation of the DAIP is the responsibility of staff in all areas of the Shire of Bruce Rock. The Disability Services Act (1993) requires all public authorities to take all practical measures to ensure that the DAIP is implemented by its officers, employees, agents and contractors.

Communication of plan to staff and people with disability

In 2023, copies of the Draft DAIP were circulated to all those who contributed to the planning process, including Shire employees and the Disability Services Commission. A copy was uploaded on the Shire webpage and made available and accessible to residents and visitors to the Shire. Formal endorsement by Council is anticipated for March 2023.

The community has been advised through the local media (newsletter and radio) that copies of the plan are available to the community upon request and in alternative formats if required.

As plans are amended, Shire employees and the community will be advised of the availability of updated plans, using the above methods.

Review and evaluation mechanisms

The Disability Service Act requires that DAIPs be reviewed at least every five years. The DAIP Implementation Plan may be amended to reflect advancements of access and inclusion issues. Whenever the DAIP is amended, a copy of the amended plan must be lodged with the Disability Services Commission.

Monitoring and reviewing: The DAIP will be reviewed annually for progress and implementation with all progress and recommended changes reported to Council.

Evaluation: An evaluation will occur as part of a five-yearly review of the DAIP. Community, staff and elected members will be consulted as part of the evaluation and Implementation process. The Plan will be amended based on the feedback received. Copies of the amended Implementation Plan, once endorsed by Council, will be available to the community in a range of inclusive formats.

Review and evaluation mechanisms

The Disability Services Act requires the Shire to report on the implementation of its DAIP in its Annual Report outlining:

- Progress towards the desired outcomes of its DAIP.
- Progress of its agents and contractors towards meeting the seven desired outcomes.
- The strategies used to inform agents and contractors of its DAIP through providing a link to DAIP on the website

4. Implementation plan

The Implementation Plan details the task, timelines, and responsibilities for each strategy to be implemented in 2023. It is intended that the Implementation Plan will be updated annually to progress the achievements of all the strategies over the duration of the five-year plan.
